A perspective view of a winding track, labeled 1, that curves through a landscape. The track is shown as a double-lined path. Five small rectangular cars are positioned along the track at various points, labeled 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14. To the left of the track, there are two distinct groups of rectangular blocks. The first group, labeled 2, consists of six blocks arranged in two rows of three. The second group, labeled 7, consists of four blocks arranged in two rows of two. The track itself is bordered by irregular lines representing terrain, with labels 4 and 5 on the upper left and 6 and 3 on the lower right.
